Principal's Corner

The transition from Thanksgiving to Christmas always feels a bit abrupt. One day we are all about red, orange and yellow leaves, handprint turkeys and anything pumpkin spice and the very next day after Thanksgiving all of this comes down and the Christmas season has begun. For me I don't like the overlap of the two seasons. It could possibly make me a little crazy if there are scarecrows and pumpkins on the front step while inside the angel collection and the nativity are being set up.

So how do you go about preparing for Christmas? Do you first put away all the Thanksgiving decorations? Do you take out one item each day to make it special for the children? Do you decorate the whole house inside and out all in one marathon day? Trust me, there is no right or wrong answer to all of these questions. The way you go about preparing for Christmas could be the same way your parents went about it.

Now, let's imagine your house is all decorated just the way you like it. The tree is decorated with an abundance of white lights and all your favorite handmade ornaments are placed perfectly. Now you can sit back in the dimly lit room and enjoy the quiet and the beauty.

Now that the house is ready, how do you prepare your heart for the coming of baby Jesus? We are currently in the season of Advent which is a time to prepare our hearts to celebrate Jesus' birthday. Maybe you do this by enjoying those quiet moments to pray and to reflect on the goodness of God. You can practice generosity as we know God has so generously provided for us and has given love to us so abundantly. You can also prepare your heart by diving into God's word. I would like to suggest you start with the book of Luke and read it as a family. You could also use this Advent devotion
